

LADUE

Student project promotes conservation •

Ladue Horton Watkins High School students Natalie Krebs, Rivka Feinberg, Max Montaldo, Mark Wilensky and Gina Wilmott have won national recognition and $40,000 in grant and scholarship money for constructing a rain garden at the school as a model for erosion and flood control. Team LEAF (Ladue Environmental Action Force) was one of 14 U.S. high school teams recently named first-place winners